DNA SAMPLE FORM

The easiest way to get DNA from a horse is to pull hair from the mane or tail with the root intact, DO NOT CUT. Pull 30-40 hairs, do not touch the roots. For young foals, hair from the tail is preferred. Long strands of hair is not necessary, DNA is extracted from the roots. Hairs must be pulled straight out to ensure follicles come out of the skin. It may be best to pull 5-10 hairs at a time rather than larger amounts. Do NOT tape over the roots, but 1-1.5 inches away from the roots, then fold this paper to ensure the roots are not exposed. Fill the form completely and at the bottom of the form or paper, tape the hair sample to the paper with clear tape, or just put the hair in the envelope with information on the outside. Do not tape over follicles.
